Turning Point - Editorial

In the election coming up, there are three forks in the road. Voters will choose between the course that the country has been following for 8 years, a new direction under a Republican administration and the "strong man" appeal of George Wallace. In the case of the Democrats, the cast will be nearly the same and so will the policy. If the Republicans win, there will certainly be changes in personnel and programs. Both have established proven people to either stay in control or to assume command. Wallace has neither. One man can't run the national government. Yet, millions are apparently ready to vote to give control to a man who has no organized party and no people to place in executive or cabinet positions. No party in Congress would originate legislation or get behind legislation of a Wallace government because no party exists except for the chief executive.

A vote for Wallace is a vote for disruption of the two party system. A vote for Nixon is a vote for a change of policy. A vote for Humphrey is an endorsement of present policy. It is a most important moment in

GOT A HUNCH? HAVE A BRUNCH!

Having friends over for Sunday or holiday brunch is growing in popularity. A buffet arrangement makes "hostessing" a ball without buffeting the hostess. For the main attraction serve bacon and eggs fondue fashion, accompanied by Tip-Top toast and plenty of piping hot coffee. Today's recipe: Cheese fondue, American style.

BRUNCHEON FONDUE

- 4 eggs
- 3 cups milk
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 tablespoons minced green pepper
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 5 slices Tip-Top bread, cubed
- 6 slices broiled Canadian-style bacon

Beat eggs well in large bowl. Beat in remaining ingredients except bacon. Pour into 8" x 8" x 2" baking dish. Set in a shallow pan and fill to about one inch with hot water. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350°) for about forty to forty-five minutes or until the fondue rises, sets to a delicate yet firm consistency and is golden brown. Garnish with bacon.

Yield: 6 generous portions to be ladled out with a Sunday kind of love.

Lanterns for Carriage House

HAPPY CHOICE FOR TRIBUTE
TO MISS MINERVA M. SPARROW

Announcement is made of the form chosen by "The Minerva M. Sparrow Fund" committee of the Mattapoisett Historical Society to honor a former, distinguished member. A pair of handsome, specially designed Carriage House Lanterns will adorn the exterior of the new Carriage House addition of the Historical Museum, according to word from Mrs. Earl Masterson, president of the Society, and Miss Lydia LeB. Walker, fund chairman. A small brass plaque will designate the tribute.

Over $300 was realized in donations from one to fifty dollars, and five museum treasures were accepted from the forty-two persons who participated, unique among whom was the Mattapoisett resident who responded to the occasion by the design and production of the Carriage House Lanterns themselves. By his cooperation, the available sum was stretched to include much needed wiring costs within the Carriage House, now fully met, all as part of the Minerva M. Sparrow tribute.

Each detail of the Carriage House Lanterns has been carefully planned, in simple dignity, faithful to the period. Illumination will be filtered through semi-antique glass.

Digging at The Fort

FAIRHAVEN ARCHAEOLOGY

A group of enthusiastic historians dug with high hopes on Sunday at Fairhaven's Fort Phoenix. Three weeks ago this group, with official permission, opened the sealed magazine at the fort. This Sunday they were attempting to locate the entrance to an underground chamber which reportedly existed. The diggers did uncover a considerable length of foundation and stairs which they carefully measured and charted before restoring the site to its original appearance.

In the course of their investigation they have discovered a fascinating story of the fort. They hope to make this history together with the old artifacts uncovered in this digging available for display there. A militia company is now being formed to man the exhibit and march in parades in colonial uniform. They want to make the site the major tourist attraction that it properly should be.

Anyone who has photos or information about Fort Phoenix is asked to contact Donald Bernard, 996-1734. The group is composed of Mrs. LeBaron received the National Achievement Certificate as matron for meeting the requirements of the National Grange, a Junior Grange project. She also received a State Honor Matron's Certificate.

Other awards during the afternoon were checks presented Master Breton for some of his officers whose projects were judged by the State. Marybeth Breton received third prize for her beach robe and bag, Robert Linhares for his table decoration made of bark, cones, pine, second place; and Raymond Buckley, second prize for his recipe box. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Parents and Other Citizens of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester:

Commencing with the School Year 1969-1970, the Old Rochester Regional High School will need additional academic student space to meet a growing school population. More than student housing is involved, however. Basic to all or any decisions that will be reached in resolving this problem is the issue of quality education - how to continue on the course already chartered, and presently practiced, as regards quality education, coupled with a growing school population.

The Old Rochester Regional District School Committee solicits your assistance to help resolve this major problem. Thanks to a group of interested citizens in Mattapoisett, a special meeting has been arranged by them and will be held on Wednesday, October 30, 1968, at 8:00 P.M., in the Old Hammondtown School, Mattapoisett, to openly study the problem as to what action should be taken for the School Year commencing September 1969. The entire School Committee of the Old Rochester Regional District, and Principal Gifune and I, will be present to review all facets of this problem with you.

We need your assistance to provide us with the direction that you would like to have us follow in meeting this problem which concerns the educational welfare of your children. It is our sincerest wish that good representation from all three towns will be present to study this problem. The Old Rochester Regional High School and its immediate and long range future is in your

HEARING ON DOGS

Several complaints were registered to Mattapoisett Selectmen last Tuesday night about dogs in the vicinity of Pearl, Church and Baptist Streets. Complainers wish to have a permanent restraining order. The Selectmen advised them to bring in a petition signed by at least 10 registered voters so that an article can be placed in the warrant.

REPUBLICAN TOWN COMMITTEE MEETING HELD IN MARION

Mr. Arthur Milhench, chairman of the Marion Republican Town Committee, held a meeting Thursday evening at his home on Point Road for the purpose of discussing ways of reminding Marion voters of their responsibility on November 5th. Transportation and baby sitting were considered and it was decided that phone contacts prior to election day would prove effective.

Mrs. Thayer Francis, Jr. of the Finance Committee gave a report on progress of the fund raising effort. A considerable amount had been received and it was suggested that the bulk of funds raised be sent to the Boston headquarters for advertising and promotions and to retain a balance for the town of Marion for whatever expenses were needed.

Mr. Herbert Evans introduced the subject of Article 2 on the referendum pertaining to graduated income taxes. It was unanimously agreed that there be a no vote on this article.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Ralph Walker, president of the Rochester Historical Society, has announced that the first meeting of the season will be at 8:00 tonight at his home on Snipatuit Road. Election of officers will be held and plans for the coming year discussed. All interested persons are invited.

Artist-Craftsmen Exhibit

UNIQUE SHOW AT ART CENTER

Continuing at the Marion Art Center is a unique show and sale of the finest examples of craft from well-known craftsmen of the Boston-Cape Cod area. The styles range from delicate jewelry of Sandwich glass to fused glass wall hangings, from realistic bird carving to scrimshaw, woodworking, weaving, pottery, ceramics, jeweled eggs and decorated driftwood, to mention a few. Eighteen artist-craftsmen have contributed to the show in the Cecil Clark Davis Gallery, among them from our local area are Mrs. Maurice Makepeace, Mrs. Thayer Francis, Bernard Kelley and Margaret Purrington.

Another craftsmen, Milton K. Delano, of Fairhaven, is one of the leading scrimshaw artists in the world today. He gained world-wide recognition when Mrs. Kennedy Onassis commissioned him to scrimshaw the Presidential Seal on a whale's tooth in 1962. This tooth Jacqueline Kennedy placed in his casket on the President's death. Mr. Delano is a graduate of the Swain School of Design and studied pencil sketching at the University of Pisa in Italy. His interest in scrimshaw began when he was twelve years old and he learned the original ways of doing it and still uses the old techniques in his work, such as making his own tools. Mr. Delano considers scrimshaw an indigenous original American folk art.

Ruth A. Edwards is well-known in this area for her beautifully delicate paperweights of real flowers and insects in their natural forms and color, embedded in polyester plastic. Mrs. Edwards experimented for 2 1/2 years in this technique before obtaining any really successful method, and gathers her own materials and makes the molds. A "Forest Fantasy" is a woodland scene in miniature with various wild flowers, toadstools, grasses, ferns and mosses. The "Sea Fantasy" is an underwater scene with seaweed, shells and sand. The "String Symphony" is a line design made with thread encased in plastic in such a way that their placement, though straight, gives the illusion of curved lines within the design. This completely original craft is beautifully executed by Mrs. Edwards.

A familiar landmark on Route 6A in Sandwich is the Bird House in which Peter Peltz tends his craft, carving birds and mounting them on driftwood, arranging them in shadow boxes, or as part of the design of a lamp or other furniture. Mr. Peltz began making bird carving while in the Navy in World War II, and continued carving as a hobby in Albany, New York, after the war. With a B.A. and M.A. from Yale University, Mr. Peltz entered business before he and his wife decided to take a long gamble; picked a place they wanted to live and let the "job matter take care of itself". Thus, they arrived in Sandwich and started selling birds on a very small scale, while employed at Camp Edwards. "The big break came when I was able to buy a piece of land on Route 6A. I filled it in and found an old cranberry shack over in Falmouth. This I had moved and did a lot of work on it to make it look as it does today," explains Mr. Peltz. Adding to his skill as a craftsman is his fine sense of humor and thorough pleasure in his work. Peter Peltz is the craftsman's answer to the American Dream, and the Marion Art Center is fortunate to have his birds and shadow boxes on display currently.

The Art in Crafts Show will continue at the Gallery through November 30th. Hours are 12 noon to 4 P.M. Tuesday through Saturday, with tea being served every Wednesday from 2 to 4 P.M.

The articles on exhibit are also for sale, and this is an opportunity to purchase a beautiful piece of art suitable to any taste or decor.

HOW TO CUT HEAT COSTS:
5 tips that can help you get more warmth from your heating oil dollars

1. Check your thermostat location. If your thermostat is in a stairwell, on an outside wall or near an outside entrance, it may cause your burner to operate more often than necessary. It can be moved for you at little cost.

2. Shut off radiators or registers in rooms that aren't in regular use.

3. When fireplaces are not in use, make sure dampers are securely shut.

4. Let us clean and adjust your oil burner. Then help keep it clean by using Shell Heating Oil.

5. Close off unused or rarely used rooms.

MARCH OF DIMES

Dr. Robert William Holley, named 1968 Nobel laureate in medicine and physiology, is now investigating the mechanisms of cell growth regulation as a Resident Fellow at The Salk Institute for Biological Studies in La Jolla, California.

Dr. Holley won the Nobel Prize for determining the sequence of the alanine transfer RNA (ribonucleic acid) molecule, a nucleic acid essential to life. He was Professor of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, when he made this contribution to molecular biology in 1965.

On September 1, he accepted a permanent appointment at The Salk Institute where he is investigating a protein believed to be basic to the growth of all living cells. Dr. Holley first isolated the protein -- which may give important clues to the properties of cancer cells and the mechanisms of cancer formation -- in 1966 and 1967 when he was a visiting fellow at the Institute.

The award to Dr. Holley is the 12th Nobel Prize in 22 years received by a research grantee or scientist otherwise connected
